

Growth mindset praise cheatsheet for parents

Instead of this....

Try this:

You are so smart at this!

You worked so hard on this! I knew that you could solve it if you really focused

You are my little genius!
Those animals are perfect!

You spent a lot of time working on this drawing. I saw you were looking at the animal book to help you. That really worked!

You have a real talent in football – future Ronaldo!

Your practice is paying off. You're getting better and better at scoring!

Great job with distant learning today!

I really liked the way you stayed at your desk, kept your concentration, and kept on working.

That was nice of you!

It was brave to stand up for your friend.

You are such a great puzzle-solver!

I really liked the strategy you've used for solving this puzzle – making the frame first and then organizing pieces by color was a great idea

Well done with getting A on the test

You really put so much effort into studying for this test. I'm pleased that your teacher has recognized that.

Good job!

Thank you for helping me tidy up. I especially like the way you put your clothes neatly to the wardrobe. That will make a huge difference when you'll be picking your outfit in the morning
